

Fortunes

E. Dommise

The past three decades have seen a remarkable rise of Afrikaners in business. In light of the government's comprehensive black economic empowerment programme this has been one of the unexpected features of the South African economy.

Today many of these Afrikaner tycoons are competing internationally. With Koos Bekker at its helm, media group Naspers began dominating the Johannesburg Stock Exchange and was turned into a global consumer internet group. Johann Rupert strongly extended Richemont's share internationally in the upper-end market of luxury goods, while Christo Wiese and Whitey Basson at Pepkor and Shoprite became Africa's largest clothing and food retailers. Fortunes describes how these and other business leaders, such as Jannie Mouton, Michiel le Roux, Douw Steyn, Roelof Botha, Hendrik du Toit and a number of commercial farmers, built their empires. It looks at their life and business philosophies and what makes them such successful entrepreneurs.

Recent years have also seen the sensational collapse of Steinhoff International, the furniture retailer led by Markus Jooste that destroyed some of these fortunes. While Jooste is the topic of one of the chapters, another looks at the philanthropic projects most of these tycoons are involved in. 458 p., SC. R 310

Wahrheit sagen, Teufel jagen

G. Menuhin

Haben Sie sich jemals gefragt, weshalb die Welt nicht zur Ruhe kommt? Weshalb Ihre Eltern, Großeltern oder Urgroßeltern in vielen Kriegen sterben mußten, die niemals hätten stattfinden müssen? Nun, in diesem Buch finden Sie die Antworten. Der Autor sagt: "Ich bin einfach nur ein Sprecher der Humanität, ein Repräsentant unserer wahren Rechte. Ich habe in diesem Buch ausgedrückt, was viele fühlen und nur wenige wissen, aber unfähig waren, es auszudrücken"

Memories of a Game Ranger

H. Wolhuter

In 1902 Harry Wolhuter was one of the first game rangers in the Sabi Nature Reserve, which would eventually, along with the Shingwedzi Nature Reserve, become the Kruger National Park. Originally a hunter, Wolhuter made the protection of the Kruger's wildlife his life's work.

Memories Of A Game Ranger tells of his days in the bush, when rangers went on horseback and lions considered them fair game – like the infamous time Harry was ambushed by two lions and managed to kill one of them while it was dragging him off into the grass.

There was very little in the way of danger Harry didn't have to cope with – from crocodiles in swimming pools to irate hippos at ranger posts – and that's not even taking into account the poachers, the malaria or the little old ladies wanting protection from those fearsome giraffes. 293 S. Rebel

C. Schoeman

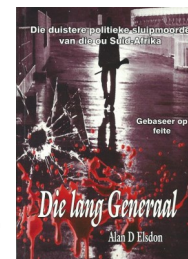

Van al die gebeure in die Kaapkolonie gedurende die Tweede Vryheidsoorlog het die teregstelling van Hans Lötter, asook dié van kmdt. Gideon Scheepers, die meeste emosie onder Afrikaners ontketen. Lötter en sy mederebelle in die Kolonie het die verbeelding van die plaaslike bevolking aangegryp en die Britte maande lank hoofbrekens besorg. Sy gevangeneneming, verhoor en teregstelling deur 'n Britse vuurpeloton op Middelburg, Kaap, het groot woede en verontwaardiging veroorsaak en hom verewig as Boeremartelaar in die Afrikaner-volksoorleweringe. Nou word sy boeiende verhaal vir die eerste keer volledig vertel. 220 S. SB., R 230

Sounds of the African Bush

Gordon King, Doug Newman

Animals are often heard before they are spotted, and this book serves as an excellent guide to identify 76 creatures (mammals, birds, amphibians and insects), based primarily on their calls. For each of the species listed, there is a full-colour photograph, distribution map and brief facts about its life history and behavior. Key features: An accompanying CD with 76 common animal calls; photographs and distribution maps for each species; interesting facts, including habitat, diet and time of calls. An invaluable resource for nature lovers of all ages, this CD and book will provide a new way of recognizing the varied sounds of Africa's wild areas.

Southern African Birdfinder

Cohen/Spottiswoode/Rossouw

The ideal companion to all local field guides to birds.

After an introduction to birding in the southern African region, the authors identify and describe more than 200 top birding sites and associated birds across South Africa, Namibia, Botswana,

Zimbabwe, the Indian Ocean islands and the little-documented, but increasingly popular areas of Angola, Mozambique, Zambia and Malawi. All sites are ranked into one of three categories of priority: essential (the regions best); excellent (top sites but expendable to a time-limited visitor) and local interest (ideal for those looking for new areas to explore). All sites include practical details of access, best times to visit, habitat diversity and general natural history. A guide to finding the region's top 100 birds and an annotated checklist conclude the book. 456 p, SC, R 370

The

Super-Afrikaners

I Wilkins/H. Strydom

The Super-Afrikaners, originally published in 1978, scandalised a nation as it exposed the secret workings of the Broederbond. Out of print for over three decades, this edition with an introduction by Max du Preez is available for a new generation. Formed in Johannesburg in 1918 by a group of young Afrikaners disillusioned by their role as dispossessed people in their own country, the first triumph of this remarkable organisation was the fact that it was largely responsible for welding together dissident factions within Afrikanerdom and thereby ensuring the accession of the National Party to power in 1948. This highly organised clique of Super-Afrikaners, by sophisticated political intrigue, waged a remarkable campaign to harness political, social and economic forces in South Africa to its cause and succeeded. Political journalists Hans Strydom and Ivor Wilkins traced, at great personal risk, its development from the earliest days to the present. The book includes the most comprehensive list of Broeders ever published. 616 p SC R 340

INLIGTING-
SKANDAAL

Die ware Inligtingskandal

Eschel Rhooie

Gedurende die sewentigerjare het die regering R 75 miljoen aan 'n geheime inligtingsprogram spandeer. Die fondse was deur die kabinet, en met mnr. P.W.Botha se samewerking, in die begroting van Verdediging weggesteek – sonder Parlementeëre goedkeuring en dus konstitusioneel onwettig. 'n Kabinetskomitee, onder voorsitterskap van mnr. Vorster, het die projekte gemonitor en die finansiering met die Minister van Finansies gereël, eers dr. Nico Diederichs en daarna dr. Owen Horwood. Sekere geheime projekte is op sinistêre wyse aan die opposisiepers gelek en het 'n reeks dramatiese gebeure tot gevolg gehad, o.a. die abdikasie van die Staatspresident en die ontslag van die Nasionale Party se kronprins, wat die hele politieke aansig van Suid-Afrika verander het. Beskuldigings van ongemaagtigde en wanbesteding van staatsfondse, van persoonlike verryking, is oral rondgeslinger.

„O Vaalrivier!... Broederstroom“

V.E. D'Assonville

Die rebellie van 1914 was 'n tragiese gebeurtenis. Burgers wat twaalf jaar vantevore saam vir oorlewing teen Groot-Brittanje geveg het, het in 1914 op mekaar geskiet. Twee gedugte Boeregeneraals, De la Rey en Beyers, het hul lewens verloor. Generaal De Wet en ander het in tronke beland. Jopie Fourie is deur die regering gefusilleer. Pynlike emosies en bitter gevolge is onder ons mense ontken.

Die vraag na honderd jaar is eenvoudig: Was die regering se optrede nodig? Hierop gaan hierdie boek in.

Radelose rebellie

A., Grundlingh, S. Swart

In 1914 het 'n groep Afrikaners in verset teen die Unieregering gekom, aangevuur deur „Siener“ van Rensburg se visioene wat vertel het van die ondergang van die Britse ryk.

Toe Louis Botha net ná die aanvang van die Eerste Wêreldoorlog aankondig dat die Unie Duits-Suidwes-Afrika sou inval, was die vet in die vuur en het honderde opstandige manne die wapen opgeneem. Volgens die joernalis L.E. Neame was dit “one of the most curious and dramatic incidents in the Great War”. Naas die Groot Trek en die Anglo-Boereoorlog het die rebellie 'n prominente plek in Afrikanergeskiedskousing ingeneem. Dit is derhalwe nie verbasend nie dat daar reeds heelwat navorsing oor die opstand gedoen is, maar met Radelose Rebellie? ondersoek prof. Albert Grundlingh en dr. Sandra Swart aspekte daarvan wat tot dusver grotendeels verwaarloos is.

Vorlesungen über Zeitgeschichte

E. Gauss

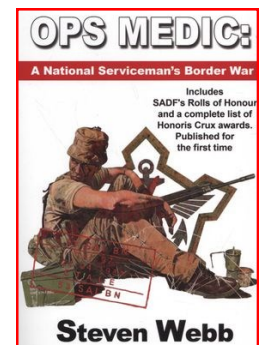

Gewisse Kapitel aus der Zeit des Zweiten Weltkrieges werden in der Öffentlichkeit und von der herrschenden Geschichtsschreibung immer noch in der einseitig verzerrenden Darstellung der Umerziehungspropaganda vorgetragen. Trotz in letzter Zeit sich häufender Gegenbeweise und neuer Quellen werden die bisherigen Ansichten kaum hinterfragt, werden berechnete Zweifel unterdrückt oder sogar kriminalisiert. Diese Vorlesungen greifen grundlegende, bisher tabuisierte Fragen der Zeitgeschichte auf und behandeln sie im Zusammenhang mit neueren Erkenntnissen auf der Grundlage streng wissenschaftlicher Gegenüberstellung der einzelnen Argumente. Dabei ergibt sich, daß manche bisher vertretenen Anschauungen unmöglich der früheren Wirklichkeit entsprechen können, weil sie auch gegen allgemein anerkannte Naturgesetze verstoßen. In sachlicher, genau belegter Weise werden die einzelnen Widersprüche aufgezeigt und damit der Forschung Anregungen zu notwendigen Einzeluntersuchungen gegeben. Der historischen Wahrheit verpflichtet, will der Autor mit diesem Werk einen Beitrag zur Völkerverständigung leisten. 352 S. einige Farbtafeln, schwarz-weiße Fotos, Tabellen, Grafiken, Inhaltsverzeichnis, Bibliographie, Personenverzeichnis, Abbildungsnachweis Tbl., R 280 1993 erschienen

Ops Medic

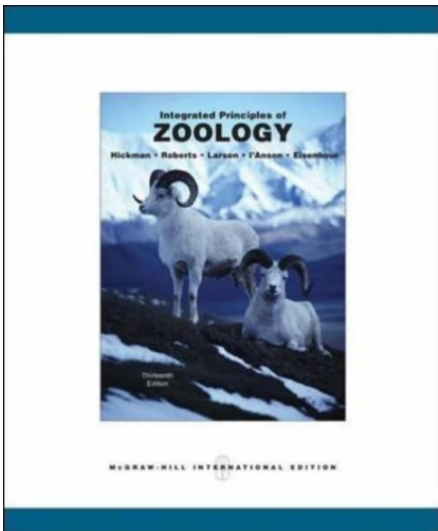

S. Webb

As a recent British immigrant Steven Webb was exempt from the compulsory two-year call-up for National Service that all white South African males faced when they turned 18. Despite this he volunteered for National Service in July 1984 and then volunteered to serve in the South African Medical Service. Following basic training he was posted to SAMS' Combat Medical Operation Company (Ops Company) for six months of advanced specialist training. He writes about border patrols conducted on foot and in Buffel mine protected fighting vehicles, seeking out SWAPO's armed guerrillas who had infiltrated from Angola and the constant anticipation of ambush by an elusive foe. He tells of the stabilisation and casevac of casualties by helicopter. In truth white National Service units achieved little success in the border war against an underrated enemy. So this is not the story of elite and glamorous fighting units like the Reconnaissance Commandos, Koevoet, 32-Battalion, or the Parachute Battalions and the successes they achieved, but of young, white, conscripted National Servicemen, often straight from school, who were thrown headfirst into a guerrilla war in a country outside of South Africa and far from home. Many National Servicemen, including 37 Ops Medics, died fighting in the Border War. Fifteen were awarded the Honoris Crux (two of the silver grade) for bravery — four posthumously. This book includes the SADF's Roll of Honour which lists almost 2,500 of its honoured dead killed on active service and the complete roll of the SADF's Honoris Crux awards for bravery — both published for the first time. 296 p., SC., R 235

The rising tide of color

L. Stoddard

More than a decade before writing this book, he became convinced that the keynote of twentieth-century world-politics would be the relations between the primary races of man. Shortly before the First World War, he stated that the worldwide struggle between the primary races of mankind bids fair to be the fundamental problem of the twentieth century. The Rising Tide of Color Against White World-Supremacy, is a book about geopolitics and racialism by Lothrop Stoddard, with an introduction by Madison Grant. The book describes the collapse of white supremacy and colonialism due to population growth among non-white people, rising nationalism in colonized nations, and industrialization in China and Japan. Stoddard advocated restricting non-white migration into white nations, restricting Asian migration to Africa and Latin America and slowly giving Middle Eastern and Asian colonies independence. A noted eugenicist, Stoddard supports a separation of the "primary races" of the world and warns against miscegenation. 320 S. SC R 250
